Operating debt rising Tax break still slated by schools

By BILL WINTER
Editor

Agreeing with taxpayers that "we deserve a break today," Granite City school officials Tuesday night reiterated what they said during tentative budget deliberations Aug. 1: They hope and expect to see the school tax rate drop by more than 11 cents on each $100 assessed valuation.

But borrowing to meet current operating costs could rise from the past year's $950,000 to $1,350,000 or perhaps $1,650,000, they added.

Only one of a number of agencies sharing property tax dollars, Community Unit District Nine nevertheless is the largest of all governmental operations within the Quad-City area.

The district's overall appropriation for the July 1978-June 1979 fiscal year tells the tale of that size: $24,574,244 (reflecting the fact that schools traditionally have more employees than other local-level taxing bodies).

The school system sees its assessed valuation rising from $222,024,991 to about $240 million, and other trends also may be of some help in curbing borrowing.

With the new tax levy projected to be $8.842,173, compared to the $8.816,915 extended last year, the rate for 1978 (spring-summer 1979 collection) is estimated at $3.6842, down 11.38 cents from the $3.80 actual 1977 school tax rate (1978 collection).

Final budget action Tuesday night provided $20,684,904 for education (up $1,050,200 from $19,634,644 a year ago); $1,298,800 for operations, building and maintenance (down $40,850 from $1,339,650); $1,082,000 for bonds and interest (down $10,250 from $1,092,250); $930,540 for transportation (up $94,910 from $835,630); and $461,000 for the Illinois municipal retirement fund (down $35,500 from $496,500).

These figures total $24,574,244, or $1,058,500 more than the 1977-78 budget of $23,515,744, a rise of about 4% percent.

Previous budget increases were $645,713 for the 1977-78 year, $320,000 for 1976-77, and $800,875 for 1975-76.

When tentative action was taken Aug. 1, the tax levy was as it is described now, but the budget was only $24,169,205—prior to the determination of state aid and the settlement of employee negotiations.

A levy breakdown shows $6,120,000 ($9,916,614 extended a year ago) for operations, $860,000 ($705,353) for retirement, $644,773 ($814,404) for bonds and interest, $288,000 ($278,428) for student transportation, $129,000 ($116,012) for life safety (building alterations to improve safety) and $120,000 ($116,012) for the working cash fund.

DEPUTY ASSOCIATION RECORDS include this report summarizing July 1974-June 1975 operations of the now defunct group. Figures indicate $105,227 available and only $9,529 in charitable contributions by the association, County Board Member Daniel Partney asserts. He has shown trial testimony transcripts and has called for the Madison County Board to seek an investigation Sept. 20 of varied deputy allegations, including references to the association.

Pontoon rail speed limit, repair ordered

The Illinois Commerce Commission has acted to bring about improvement of the railroad tracks and railbed near West Pontoon Road which city officials say are posing a potential of explosion and fire because of five oil tanks located near the crossing, the Granite City Council learned Tuesday night.

Irvin Slate Jr., assistant city attorney, told the aldermen that he has been informed by Roy L. Peterson, chief railroad engineer of the ICC, that two railroads have been ordered to reduce the speed of their trains to 10 miles per hour at that point until the tracks and rail bed can be repaired.

Slate said Peterson wrote him that the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad and Conrail have been ordered to reduce speed to 10 miles per hour in the area where the road bed and tracks were reported in dangerous condition by Granite City Fire Chief Don Parente last month. The low speed must be maintained while the tracks are being repaired and the ICC will monitor the train speeds and train operations "through the crossing to insure reduced speed and that the track repairs are undertaken," Slate said he was informed.

The ICC action followed a request by Granite City to order the improvements. That request was made on the basis of a report by Parente that the tracks adjacent to five oil tanks in use by an oil firm were loose and presented a dangerous situation that "could result in a catastrophe" in the event of a derailment in the vicinity of the oil tanks.

Parente inspected the tanks at the West Pontoon Crossing at a time when a series of railroad derailments, some of them involving propane tanks, was occurring in this area and other parts of the country.

Gushleff chosen as new alderman

William L. Gushleff, 1671 Fourth St., Madison, was appointed Second Ward Alderman by Mayor Mike Sasyk at the Madison City Council meeting Tuesday night.

He replaces the late Donald Broyles and will serve until the April 1979 elections. The council concurred, with six aldermen voting in favor, one voting no, one abstaining and one alderman absent.

Voting for the appointment were Aldermen Don Reeves, Paul Ashford, Chris Costello, Mike Sikora, Booker Walton and Donald Garrett.

Thomas Gordan, alderman Third Ward, was absent. Alderman Ronald Grzywacz abstained and Second Ward Alderman Frank Dutko voted no.

Dutko said, "Prior to the meeting we discussed two very fine men. It is the mayor's prerogative to make the appointment. However, I feel committed to another person so I am casting a vote."

Gushleff is a teacher in the Belleville Public District and is currently chairman of the City Zoning Board and chairman of the City Recreation Board.

that need to be taken into consideration by the tenant or the city.

"We should have just about everything tied down in 60 days or so; who the tenants will be and designs drawn. Then we will be ready to call bids," Sasyk said.

The $100,000 housing grant will be used to fix houses in the West Madison area where, according to Al Hudzik, city controller, "the need is greatest."

Prior to the official opening of the council meeting, Mayor Sasyk introduced Alex Seith, Democratic candidate for U.S. Senator from Illinois who is running against Senator Charles Percy.

Seith shook hands with everyone in the room and then made a brief speech.

Charles Steptoe addressed the council on behalf of Belleville Area College courses held at Madison High School.

He noted that four college credit courses: accounting I, general psychology, introductory sociology and elementary Spanish are being offered and 24 non-credit courses from introduction to bartending to real estate transactions are being taught.

Steptoe called on the aldermen to encourage people of Madison to enroll in these courses. He stated that about any topic could be taught if there were 12 to 14 people interested in taking the course.

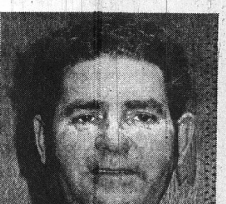

This is a real fine program," Sasyk said. "I think we need to do everything we can to make sure the people know what is being offered and even get new classes going where there is an interest."

The Madison Zoning Board recommended to the City Council to reject the application of Jay Greer for a special use permit to operate an ice cream parlor and electric game room at 1701 Edwardsville Road where a grocery market formerly was located across from the Harris School.

William Gushleff, chairman of the zoning board said, "It is our policy to follow what the people in the neighborhood affected want. This type of business is not wanted as the people think it will draw many undesirable types to the area."

Due to the absence of Third Ward Alderman Thomas Gordan, action on the board's request was delayed until the next council meeting.

The entire Madison School Board was in attendance at the council meeting to object to the request.

No one person ever is totally responsible for big accomplishments, but the name of Harry Breckner inevitably comes to mind when thinking about the Mitchell area and its major emphasis on recreation and athletics.

He was there at the start in 1960 and he's still playing a leading role as the Mitchell Park and Athletic Association prepares for its 18th annual fall festival. Sessions will begin at 6 p.m. tomorrow and at noon Saturday and Sunday. Activities will conclude at about midnight on each of the three nights.

All types of food and concession stands will be featured along with rides and entertainment. Headliners will include the Joey-Jane orchestra, Friday evening, Dewayne Greaser of Granite City and Nashville fame Saturday night, and Nick Nixon on Sunday evening.

Dave White will provide country and western music at 3 p.m. Saturday. Sunday's schedule includes trophy awards at 1 p.m., Jerry Green dancers at 2 p.m., Youngstown school members at 3 p.m., Mexican Honorary Commission traditional dances at 4 p.m. and Dave White at 5 p.m.

Breckner is president of the association, which seeks to encourage provision of park facilities in the Mitchell area and also understand part of the cost for a massive sports program enjoyed by youngsters and adults.

Faculty harmony

"Peace—it's wonderful." Eying the many disputes elsewhere, Granite City teachers and school officials feel they have a 1978-79 agreement that is fair to all.

Provisions noted by the Board of Education Tuesday night leave the 1977-78 pay levels the same this school year for the second through twelfth years of teaching service, but boost the salaries of first-year teachers and those with 13 or more years of duty.

By the nature of the five-track salary schedule, all faculty members still moving up on the schedule receive a pay increase by advancing another year in experience as well as possibly improving their income by obtaining greater educational qualification.

The cost-of-living factor of $575 ($475 salary and $100 to the board-paid pension) was raised to $675 a year ($575 and $100). Eliminated entirely for the first time is the pay schedule for non-degree teachers, all of whom now have obtained degrees or have retired. In 1977-78, the non-degree schedule varied from $6,000 in the first year to $12,400 for 13 or more years.

As mentioned, the part of the salary schedule from two to 12 years remains the same—$10,300 to $15,725 for a bachelor degree; $10,550 to $15,975 for a bachelor degree with 150 credit hours; $10,800 to $16,225 for bachelor-with-175 hours.

Also, $11,050 to $16,475 for holders of master degrees; $11,300 to $16,725 for persons with master-and-190; $11,800, $12,425 third year, $13,025, $13,400, $13,750, $14,100, $14,500, $14,900 ninth year, $15,400, $16,025 eleventh year and $16,725.

Starting salaries were boosted $400—$9,700 ($9,300) for bachelor degrees, $9,950 ($9,550) for bachelor-150 hours, $10,200 ($9,800) for bachelor-175 hours, $10,450 ($10,050) for master degrees and $10,700 ($10,300) for master-190.

For 13 or more years of service, there is a $600 annual increase in the five bachelor-master categories: $17,300 ($16,700), $17,550 ($16,950), $17,800 ($17,200), $18,050 ($17,450) and $18,300 ($17,700).

Board-paid pensions remain at $100 in the first and second years and at $450 in the third year.

This pension payment formerly was $450 in the fourth through twelfth years but now is $700-$800-$800-$775-$775-$775-$750-$750 for those years.

In the 13-or-more years listing, the board-paid pension totals $1,250, compared to $850 a year ago.

Thus, the top teachers on the schedule (13 or more years of service and a master degree with 190 credit hours) will get $19,550 ($18,300 salary and $1,250 pension contribution) instead of the year-ago $18,550 ($17,700 and $850).

A working agreement covering two years—July 1977 through June 1979—was approved a year ago by Community Unit School District Nine and Granite City Federation of Teachers Local 742.

The two-year pact outlined 43 articles affecting pay and working conditions and allowed for reopening of salary talks for the second year (1978-79) of the agreement.

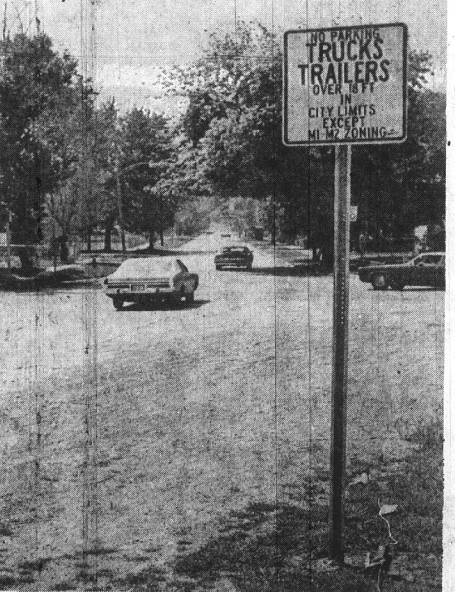

A new agreement of unspecified duration will be the subject of negotiations in 1979.

Nab 4 sorting burglary loot

A report that four men were carrying boxes into a shed at a dwelling in the 2900 block of Morgan Avenue at 4:05 a.m. Wednesday, brought officers to the property, where the four were surprised while sorting record albums. Loot recovered at the scene allegedly was taken in a burglary in Hazelwood, Mo. The men were told to raise their hands and three complied, while a fourth man ran toward the street and was captured by an officer. The man who attempted to flee had an auto parked in the street from which officers confiscated a turntable found in the trunk. Found in the shed were 112 record albums, a record rack, a magazine, SanSui AM-FM receiver, Pioneer equalizer, photo patch and an electronic junction box. Granite City officers were interrogating the foursome yesterday and waiting information from Hazelwood police before charges can be processed. Two of those involved from Granite City are 20 and 17 years old. One from St. Louis is 19 and one from Jennings, Mo. is 17 years old.

Dan Stack aids petitions directed to Cong. Price

Dan Stack, candidate for United States House of Representatives in the 23rd Congressional District, of Illinois, has been obtaining signatures on a petition which will be directed to incumbent Congressman Melvin Price.

The petition seeks federal grant funds for the building of an "overpass" spanning railroad crossings on 19th Street in Granite City.

The petition notes that another city in his congressional district has received federal grant funding for seven such overpasses.

Stack was at the American Steel Foundries gate Thursday with a group of interested citizens asking passersby to sign the petition. He said he will keep in close contact with all of the mayors in the district in order to be aware of needs such as this one.

"Many of the communities in this district have the need for assistance in various projects and I intend to be aware of these needs on a continual basis by being home in the district at every available opportunity."

"The people need to have access to their congressman and I will have either a mobile office or a few satellite offices if there is little or no extra cost to the taxpayers. I am not going to promise that every project can be funded, but all should be considered according to need and all funding should not go to any one community."

"This area is completely bound-up by railroad crossings which often prevent emergency vehicles from swift passage. I will do everything I can to help alleviate this problem; even help to petition my opponent for his assistance while he is still in office," Stack commented.

Rites for infant Sallie Pearce

Funeral services were held Wednesday at a Fairview Heights funeral home for Sallie Jo Ann Pearce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard (Sandrajane) Pearce of Caseyville.

She was stillborn Monday, Sept. 4, at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Granite City. Other survivors include a sister, Angela, at home; grandparents and a great-grandmother.

GC tax levy $2.7 million

A 1978 Granite City tax levy of $2,758,309 — the amount of operating funds needed to be raised by taxes — was approved by the City Council Tuesday night.

The levy is identical in amount to that approved by the city last year for collection of taxes this summer. No estimated rate was projected, since it will depend upon the city's assessed valuation to be determined later this year.

The levy ordinance calls for $364,777 to fund operations of the general corporate fund, and 12 levies for separate accounts. These include a levy of $415,380 for operation of the public library, the largest separate levy account.

It sets up $300,000 each for the fire pension fund and the police pension fund, items which drew discussion from the aldermen after presentation of the bill for passage.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward asked why the levy needed to be $300,000 for the fire pension fund since a 2 percent commission from insurance companies is paid to the city through the State Insurance Department.

The 2 percent represents a commission paid by out-of-state insurance companies for fire insurance sold in the state and prior to four years ago was given to the fire department.

The fee, which varies from $16,000 to $20,000 per year, now goes into the city's general fund under an ordinance passed in 1974.

Robert Stevens explained that the amount needed to fund the fire pension is based on an annual audit of the fire pension fund by the state, and that the amount actually needed for funding this year was $384,000, so that commission fees from insurance firms would not reduce the amount of the $300,000 levy, which is the maximum the city can levy under the rate limitation fixed by statute.

The new levy calls for $288,751 for the police department, $277,520 for the fire department and $195,103 for the street department.

A levy of $242,520 was set for the sanitation department and $150,123 for payment of bonds and interest.

Other items include, maintenance of sewers, $76,276; civil defense, $10,725; municipal retirement, $82,506; and street lighting, $49,504.

The tax levy will apply against a 1978-79 operating budget of $7,676,145. The difference between the tax levy and the budget is financed from other city revenue from state and federal sources, and from sale of business licenses, fees and permits.

Laborers, builders meeting

Contract talks between Southern Illinois contractors and representatives of 39 laborers locals continue today at the federal mediation offices in Clayton, Mo., following a seven-hour discussion Wednesday.

Negotiators for neither side would discuss the outcome of yesterday's session. Bryon Farrell, a negotiator for the Southern Illinois Builders Association which represents the contractors, said both sides agreed not to talk about the discussions.

Wednesday's meeting was the first since Aug. 25. Talks broke off at that time when the laborers locals either voted down a revised work agreement proposal by the builders.

Officials of the Laborers Southwestern District Council meet in their offices at Edwardsville following yesterday's contract discussions.

The dispute, involving overtime and work rules, resulted in a strike by about 4,000 laborers in the 12-county district, shutting down more than $200 million in highway and building jobs. The strike was in its 38th day today.

An additional 9,000 other workers in the building trades also have been idled by the strike.

John Flowers, 1006 Greenwood Ave., discovered the trunk to his auto open at 4:05 a.m. Wednesday and a citizen band radio was missing.

Percys of all ages campaigning here and throughout state in '78

From Franklin Roosevelt's children to Jimmy Carter's sister and mother, officeholders and candidates have traditionally relied on members of their families to help out at campaign time.

No exception is U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy. The Illinoisan is being aided in his contracts with voters in this area by an attractive pair of campaigners — his son, Mark Charles Percy, and the latter's bride of this summer, the former Miss Leslee Mullard of Lake Tahoe, Nev.

Their hosts during visits in this region have been two local attorneys, Randall Robertson and his son, Eric Robertson.

Adding to the effectiveness of the campaign efforts of the young couple are Mark Percy's interest in energy and conservation issues — topics that also occupy much of his father's time at the Senate chambers in Washington.

Born July 27, 1955, Mark Percy graduated from Stanford University in December of last year, majoring in political science. Stanford is where he and Leslee met.

He recently finished working as an apprentice carpenter in Berkeley, Calif.

Mark Percy shares his father's interest in the environment and the full range of energy-related subjects, exemplified by his summer internship with the Chesapeake Bay Center for Environmental Studies two summers ago.

While attending Stanford, he also served as an intern with an Intermediate Technology group that developed a community food canning center.

This month, he will begin full-time duties at SRI International, in Menlo Park, Calif., working for the Energy Center in the solar division. He is interested in using his carpentry skills to build solar equipment for houses, and to encourage self-help housing rehabilitation.

On July 30, the newlyweds exchanged their wedding vows.

His bride formerly worked as an assistant in the Anthropology Department at Stanford, and reports no difficulty in relating her anthropological background to the task of conversing with prospective voters in the upcoming general election Nov. 7.

Mark's sister, Sharon, wife of West Virginia first-term Governor Jay Rockefeller, There also is strong emphasis keeps busy with the political issues of that state.

Rockefeller is a Democrat and her father, Sen. Percy, is a Republican who has served two six-year terms in the Senate.

Older brother Roger Percy and his wife, Penny, also have been helping out in this year's Illinois campaign — commuting from their home in Seattle, Wash.

And the senator himself does not focus all of his time or interest in Washington.

He has been in Illinois on 370 different trips during the nearly 12 years as a senator, which figures out to a lot of travel — a journey here and another journey back on an average of about every ten days.

Mark Percy reminds voters of the wide scope and quantity of work performed by his father, including response to specific problems of constituents and also mastery of the complex legislative processes through which ideas and beliefs are converted into laws.

Tax credits — geared to ending the problem of inflation-related advances to higher tax percentage brackets — are a major concern of Sen. Percy. There also is strong emphasis on an energy solution to end the severe trade imbalance and weakening of the dollar, Mark Percy notes.

Exports are receiving major attention along with efforts to improve governmental efficiency. Sen. Percy is a leading advocate of reform of the present civil service system, which he feels has spawned too much inefficiency in federal agencies.

Locally, Sen. Percy is credited with playing a leading role in highway, port, lock-and-dam, airport, traffic overpass, home renovation and other issues and programs of key interest to Quad-Cityans.

Between the senator and his wife, and the two couples of younger Percys, the veteran business leader and legislator hopes to convey his campaign messages to every part of the state before the late-fall balloting.

Although a "third term jinx" sometimes plagues Senate candidates, the Percy campaigners are convinced that the massive 1966-76 record of accomplishments will win the hearts — and votes — of most Illinoisans this November.

Falls with dynamite — Bill Nichols hurt but happy it didn't explode

By PAT FOLEY

Press-Record Staff Writer William Nichols, 498 Layton Road, owner and operator of Nichols Net and Twine, was injured in a fall Tuesday morning on the right-of-way of the Alton and Southern Railroad two miles east of Route Three on Bend Road. And it wasn't a routine fall by any definition. Nichols was attempting to climb down the steep embankment of the right-of-way when he lost his footing in loose rocks and fell, breaking both bones of his right leg above the ankle.

He was carrying a stick of dynamite in one hand and a blasting cap in the other when the accident occurred.

Nichols was climbing down the embankment to get to a tie which helped regulate the level of Horseshoe Lake on his property. He was to use the dynamite to clear the tie to allow the water level in his part of the lake to rise.

He said the railroad used to do it that, for the last several years, he has been performing the task. Nichols said he broke his leg because he could not catch himself, due to holding the dynamite and blasting cap.

He held onto the explosives rather than risk a possible explosion by letting go of the dynamite and blasting cap, figuring that a fracture of his leg was better than a fracture of the dynamite.

Nichols had to wait about 30 minutes before a train came by, enabling him to summon help. His injury made it impossible for him to climb up the embankment.

He yelled at the engineer as the train passed, and two men got off of the train and offered their assistance. He told them to get in touch with St. Elizabeth Hospital and have an ambulance sent.

Two railroad detectives then came to the scene to help move Nichols to the waiting ambulance.

Nichols feels the ambulance attendants of the Granite City ambulance service and the railroad personnel did a "fantastic job" of getting him up the steep embankment, as the loose rocks made the task difficult.

A major lake area land owner, Nichols was a longtime net and twine company operator.

He has been working with dynamite and other explosives for more than 40 years, and adds that he used to work with explosives in the service.

Nichols utilizes dynamite for several purposes on his property, including ditching where digging would not be feasible or would be slow, and for stumping — the clearing of old tree stumps with explosives.

He had notified the railroad that he was going to clear the tie with the dynamite.

SCHWEIZERS WITH RUFFNERS. Dr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Ruffner (left) talk about retirement with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schweizer, formerly of Granite City, at a reception honoring the Ruffners in the SIUE University Center. Dr. Ruffner, senior vice-president for planning and review at SIUE, retired Thursday, completing 14 years of service with the university.

Schweizer retired July 1, 1977, after 11 years of service as director of the Foundation Administration Office at SIUE. Both men are former high-ranking officers with the U.S. Army. Dr. Ruffner's professional career also includes eight years with the U.S. State Department. He was first secretary at the U.S. Embassy in Paris when he was named university vice-president for area and student services in 1964.

CHRYSLER FOR 1979 is a beauty, Granite Chrysler-Plymouth officials at 19th Street and Grand Avenue say, citing the above model as an example. Shown is the newly-designed New Yorker, Steve Raina, vice-president in charge of sales at Granite Chrysler-Plymouth, reports, adding that the New Yorker is lighter and shorter than the 1978 car but offers more front and rear headroom and more hiproom in the rear seat. Both the New Yorker and the Newport have been completely redesigned for 1979, providing a combination of roominess, improved fuel economy, comfort, ride and luxury. These quiet, smooth-riding, six-passenger automobiles provide big-car benefits in a unique new design. Raina concludes,

Emily Taft Douglas back on campaign trail

It's been almost 12 years since a Douglas campaigned in Illinois. Sen. Paul Douglas was bested in the 1966 U.S. senatorial race by Charles Percy.

Last week, another Douglas knocked on doors in a campaign against Sen. Percy. It was Emily Taft Douglas — Mrs. Paul Douglas — campaigning for Alex Seith, the Democrat running against the two-term incumbent.

Mrs. Douglas had flown in from Washington, D.C., where she now makes her home. Not only had she come to campaign for Seith, but to accompany him on his unique door-to-door tours of towns and neighborhoods.

Mrs. Douglas, still sprightly in her 70s, was at no less for words. "Alex Seith is not just another gladhand politician," she told people on their doorsteps. "He's a man of courage, grappling with the problems of today." Seith has many of the same qualities her husband had, she told them.

Born and raised in the Champaign-Urbana area, she is the daughter of famed sculptor Lorado Taft, whose work of Abraham Lincoln still stands in Carle Park, Urbana.

Mrs. Douglas is not just another political wife. She is the only woman in the history of the United States to have preceded her husband into Congress.

She was elected as Congresswoman at-large from Illinois in 1944, four years before her husband was elected to the U.S. Senate in a 1948 upset. She not only did her husband one better, but ran 50,000 votes ahead of President Franklin Roosevelt in Illinois in the 1944 election.

A University of Chicago graduate who did service on Broadway stages before her political career, Mrs. Douglas was asked how she felt about campaigning in 1978 after more than a decade in political retirement. Her answer? "I found it intoxicating."

Her late husband was a professor of economics at the University of Chicago.

After three days of campaigning, she's not done yet. Mrs. Douglas plans to return to Illinois later this fall to campaign elsewhere in the state.

Seeks dismissal of suit in board race

A motion to dismiss a suit filed by Louis Whitsell, County Board member of Nameoki District 26, in which Whitsell seeks to keep Helen M. Hawkins off the Nov. 7 election ballot for board member in that district, was filed in circuit court at Edwardsville Wednesday.

Mrs. Hawkins also filed an answer to Whitsell's petition which asks a reversal of a Madison County Electoral Board order which placed both Mrs. Hawkins and Robert Barton, Republican, on the County Board election ballot.

She also cited an opinion from the State Board of Elections holding that a member of one party legally may file to form a new political party. Mrs. Hawkins is a Democrat precinct committeewoman in Nameoki Township but is campaigning for election as the People for Helen Hawkins Party.

Whitsell contends a member of the Democratic Party cannot file to run as a candidate on another party ticket.

In her motion for dismissal, she contends that Whitsell's attorney in the Whitsell suit for reversal, H. Carl Runge Jr., also is her attorney in another election suit now pending in the Appellate Court.

In addition she alleges that Whitsell's suit was not filed properly in time for the Sept. 7 deadline for ballot certification and that a hearing date of Sept. 13 would deny her rights.

Can't cancel some contracts

"Nothing's worse than a half truth. Some consumers lose a lot of money because they don't fully understand the seriousness of signing a contract."

"Let's get at least two things straight:

"When certain contracts can be canceled,

"When certain deposits must be returned."

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott says the law sets out the conditions under which certain contracts may be canceled, and when certain down payments must be returned. Still, he notes, some buyers and sellers are misinformed about the meaning of these laws.

One confusion springs from the misunderstanding of thinking that all contracts may be canceled within three business days of the date of sale. Not true — it just isn't that simple," Scott asserts.

"A section of the Illinois Consumer Fraud Act does protect the buyer against hard-sell tactics by setting down some rules for sales made in the home of the buyer."

"The Federal Trade Commission also protects consumers by providing for a cooling-off period for door-to-door sales. Both of these regulations permit cancellation of uninvited sales involving at least $25."

"Keep in mind that the law applies only if the business took place in the consumer's home AND the seller was uninvited."

"Let's say you answer your door bell on Wednesday and end up buying a $25 set of pots and pans. You have until Saturday to cancel the sale."

"The law protects your right to cancel and it explains how to do it."

"The seller must advise you of your right to cancel and give you the business address where your notice of cancellation should be mailed. A mailgram or registered letter is recommended."

"The letter must be postmarked no later than three business days (including Saturday) after the date of sale."

"A NOTICE OF CANCELLATION form should be attached to your copy of the purchase agreement. The date of sale should be on the agreement."

"The seller must accept a cancellation made within the time limit."

He must also return the full amount of any down payment you made or any item taken as a trade-in on a purchase."

"What if you'd like to keep the pots and pans, but you can't because the seller has rejected your application for credit? What happens to the down payment?"

"The sure thing to do is be certain about what you're buying before you sign away the money."

"Take the three-day cooling-off period before you decide to buy. You'll be amazed how much trouble you avoid."

"Those salesmen who do try to trap consumers into bad bargains don't have the time to be studied. Waste their time instead of your money."

"Some people say they signed a contract to get the guy out of the house." Well, that should make you think about letting him in."

"If you even if you do sign a contract, you still have three days to cancel. And remember, that's not true for all contracts."

"Just in the case of certain sales made in the home of the buyer."

"Should you cancel such a contract and the seller won't honor your notice, write to the Attorney General, Scott's Division of Consumer Fraud and Protection, 228 N. LaSalle St., Room 1242, Chicago, Ill. 60601."

Ideas to brighten rooms

By BARBARA HARTUNG

Q. We recently built a small house in the country. However, miscalculated the size of our son's room and it is only 10x10 feet. I would like to know how I can use the space most effectively.

A. One wall has a double window with green curtains, trimmed in yellow. The walls are bone white. There is multicolored candy-striped shag carpeting.

I would like some suggestions mainly on built-in furniture. My husband plans to build a shelves-desk combination against one wall. We were thinking of buying or building a bed that would double as a couch during the day.

Our son is 9 and enjoys football and model airplanes. Do you have any suggestions or books you can recommend? Unfortunately, most of the decorating books we have looked at are for large rooms. With construction costs as they are today, I believe more people are in our shoes. —S.R.B.

A. You are absolutely right — your problem is a common one today and it is hard to find good ideas for tiny rooms. I don't have any books to recommend and only occasionally a magazine will feature a built-in plan. However, unpainted modular furniture can be especially functional for a child's bedroom.

Often you can find 28-inch-wide, 28-inch-high and 16-inch-deep chests that you can pair up, use singly, stack or bridge with a piece of plastic laminate for a desk and work space. Or you can find built-in headboards that take advantage of the wall and leave valuable floor space for other furniture.

You can coordinate the look of the room with bright paint or a muted wood tone, depending on your taste, and can easily change the look with a simple coat or two of paint.

The idea of a sofa bed is great in a guest bedroom or family room, but I'd think twice about it for a youngster's bed. They are a bit troublesome for a small person to handle and sofa beds are not as comfortable as a good, sturdy bed for a growing child. I found a twin bed pushed into one corner and a wall of shelves and unpainted chests functioned well in a 9x10-foot bedroom for our son.

Don't overlook the possibility for handy storage of a well-compartmentalized closet. We found half of the closet was adequate for clothes and shoes and the other half was heavily used for treasures and hobby materials when we added simple shelves.

I'd suggest that you carefully draw out the room to scale on paper and try creating your own plan using unpainted furniture or finished modular pieces if you wish to spend slightly more.

Leukemia activities

Over 17,000 metropolitan area volunteers are prepared to begin their neighborhood rounds for the Leukemia Society of America's annual fund campaign. They will march from now to Sept. 17 to attain a goal of $88,000 to expand the Society's research, patient-aid and public and professional education.

Leukemia has been regarded by many as a childhood disease, but it afflicts even more adults," William M. Ward Jr., chapter president says. "It is estimated that leukemia and related diseases, such as Hodgkin's disease, will strike 51,400 Americans during the coming year."

"There is no known cure for leukemia, but more effective treatment is prolonging lives. And scientific research during the past decade has brightened the future for leukemia patients."

The metropolitan chapter provides financial assistance to leukemia patients and their families in the form of payment for anti-leukemic drugs and transportation to and from treatment centers not covered by insurance or any other source. The chapter currently supports two researchers at the Washington University School of Medicine.

The chapter office is at 1612 Big Bend Blvd.

By "MICK" STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer
More than 400 persons are expected Sunday at the Holy Trinity Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox Church, 1300 Grand Ave., Madison, to welcome His Holiness Maxim, head of the Bulgarian Orthodox Church. The church will hold about 125 persons and outside speakers are being set up for the overflow crowd.

Persons using the Trinity Hall parking lot must enter 13th Street from Madison Avenue and then make a left into the alley. The alley behind the church will be closed.

Persons also may use the B & E lot at 13th and State streets. No parking will be allowed in the 1200 and 1300 blocks of Grand Avenue.

The church will be closed until the Patriarch arrives, but the vestibule will be open at 9 a.m. until 9:25 a.m. for those who wish to light candles.

At 9:25 a.m. the vestibule will be closed.

A group of laymen and children will welcome the Patriarch with the traditional bread and salt.

At 10 a.m. Sunday, His Holiness Patriarch Maxim will pontificate at Divine Vespers assisted by Bishop Simon, three Metropolitans and pastors of the Orthodox churches in the Bi-state area.

Man, 49, hurt with ball bat

An investigation is continuing today pending filing of a charge of aggravated battery against a 15-year-old Granite City youth in connection with a fight at 4 p.m. Wednesday, in which baseball bats, chains and brass knuckles were used and a man was seriously injured.

Officers went to West 23rd Street and Nevada Avenue and found Charles Collins, 49, of 2290 Nevada Ave., bleeding profusely from head wounds. A city ambulance was called and Collins was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was treated for several lacerations to the head and a possible skull fracture, police said. He was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

Police were told two women got out of a car at the fight scene, struck a youth with a chain and a fight ensued. About seven or eight people were involved, it was learned. Collins came out of his house to help his son, who was among those involved, authorities reported.

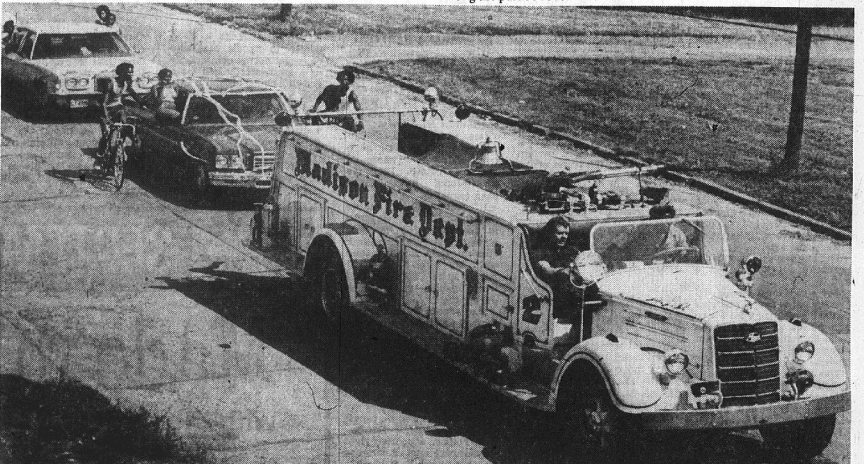

At this point, Collins was struck on the head by the 15-year-old youth who was taken into custody at his home, some distance from the scene. No motive for the fight was indicated.

Forget-me-not sale by DAV authorized

The Granite City Chapter of Disabled American Veterans was authorized by the City Council Tuesday night to conduct its annual forget-me-not sale Sept. 11 through Sept. 16 at local banks, shopping centers and other locations.

Mayor Paul Schuler has issued a proclamation proclaiming Sept. 11 to 16 as Forget-Me-Not days, and urged citizens to purchase the blue flowers, proceeds of which are used by the DAV in its work with disabled veterans and their dependents.

The mayor commented the DAV for its service to the disabled and in his proclamation requested "all citizens, interested groups and societies to participate in the day."

Plans for Forget-Me-Not Day are being formulated by Disabled American Veterans Chapter 53 under the direction of Commander Robert S. Kennerly.

Mayor Schuler's proclamation is as follows: "Whereas, the war is not over for our disabled veterans who have given a part of body and well-being in the wartime service to our nation,

"Whereas, many disabled veterans, their families and their dependents are in need of counseling, rehabilitation assistance, and advice pertaining to government rights and benefits,

"Whereas, the Disabled American Veterans, chartered by Congress as the official voice of the nation's wartime disabled, is rendering a vital service to the disabled veteran of the community and area,

"Whereas, the DAV has pledged itself to protect existing benefits and help obtain additional needed benefits for America's disabled defenders,

"Whereas, the DAV has chosen Sept. 11-16 as its annual Forget-Me-Not Day in this community, the funds derived from said day to be used in behalf of the disabled veteran and his dependents in this community.

Hearing on sexual assault prevalence and prosecution

The Illinois Rape Study Committee will conduct a public hearing Friday at Southern Illinois at Edwardsville.

Pam Klein, director of the Rape and Sexual Abuse Program, reports that the hearing is scheduled from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. tomorrow in the Illinois-Mississippi Room of the University Center.

Purpose of the hearing is to review problems of sexual assault in the downstate Illinois area. Successful Madison County prosecution methods will be discussed.

Representatives from law enforcement agencies and attorneys, judges, social workers and others who deal with sexual crime will testify before the committee.

Several state representatives from this region will participate on a panel with members of the Rape Study Committee.

Particular attention will be given to information concerning the identification and treatment of sexually abused children.

Victims of sex crimes and others who do not want to have their testimony given at an open hearing will be interviewed privately prior to the hearing, Pam Klein said.

Further public hearings of the Rape Study Committee will be held during the next several weeks.

A report from the committee to the General Assembly at the end of the year will contain findings and recommendations for new laws and for changes in policy concerning sex crimes in Illinois.

Employers now liable for tax on tip earnings

A change in the Social Security law that may have escaped the attention of some people provides additional Social Security tax liability for employers whose employees receive part of their earnings in the form of cash tips.

Under the old law, employers did not have to pay Social Security taxes on tips, but only on the actual wages paid the employee. Tips are considered something "extra," earned outside of the agreement between the employer and the employee. Since 1966, the employee has been required to pay Social Security tax on cash tips amounting to $20 or more in a month from one employer.

The new law provides that an employer must pay Social Security tax on amounts that are deemed to be earnings for purposes of the minimum wage law.

In many jobs where low wages are paid in expectation of substantial tips, the Internal Revenue Code allows such tips to be considered earnings for up to 50 percent of the minimum wage. Now, these deemed amounts will also be considered earnings for Social Security purposes.

The reporting of tips differs in some respects from the reporting of other wages. People who work as waitresses, bartenders, cab drivers or in other service occupations, full time or part time, are affected by the differences.

Cash tips that total $20 or more in a month from one employer should be reported. The tips are reported to the employer in writing by the 10th of the month for the previous month. Employers may require reports more often.

The employee may either give the employer the tax due on the tips with the report, or have the employer deduct the tax from wages owed.

Form 4070 is available from IRS for reporting tips, for recording tips received, for recording dates and amounts of tips, and for making tip reports to the employer.

"You may use your own form to report tips so long as it contains the same information as the IRS form," a spokesman said today.

It is important that the reports be made on time. If for any reason you fail to report your tips on time, you may report them on your federal income tax return. A special form is available from IRS.

A penalty may be imposed for nonreporting of tips, as it is for the nonreporting of other earnings.

The penalty is equal to half the Social Security contribution on the tips not reported. The penalty may be waived if you can show that the failure to report was due to reasonable cause and not through neglect.

"The greater penalty for failure to report tips may come later, however, when a person begins to receive Social Security benefits.

"Since the amount of the check is based on annual earnings over one's working career, a person may increase his or her benefits significantly by reporting tips as earnings for Social Security purposes.

"For those who fail to report, the gap between their benefits and their pre-retirement income is often much greater than it should be, since the benefits do not reflect all of their pre-retirement earnings.

"It makes sense to report the money you make a difference at a time when you need it.

"Retirement, disability—or premature death leave a young family—may mean that Social Security is the only means of support.

"The amount of these benefits will be based on the earnings reported.

For more information on tips stop by the office for a leaflet on Social Security and Cash Tips."

I've worked for one employer for a number of years and just recently changed jobs. How can I find if all my wages and tips have been reported to Social Security?

A. The office has a special form you can use for this purpose. Call us at 274-4100 and we'll send one to you.

Q. Suppose I work for more than one person during the same month. Do I have to make reports on my tips to each of them for Social Security?

A. Yes, if you make $20 or more in tips working for each of them.

Q. Just how much Social Security tax is involved in tips? Since taxes on regular wages are deducted right from my check, I've never really thought much about it before.

A. The amount of Social Security tax on your tips is the same as that you pay on regular wages—6.05 percent of earnings up to $17,700 for 1978. This amounts to $6.05 on each $100 in tips.

RELEASED ON BOND

Seith proposes new tax aid to cities

Alex Seith of Chicago, Democratic candidate for U.S. Senator in next November's general election, told Granite City Council members Tuesday night that if he is elected one of his prime objectives will be the adoption of legislation that would permit cities to share in federal income taxes.

Seith, who was permitted to address the council on a motion by Seventh Ward Alderman Paul Ray Bowler, said he realizes what a tough job it is to obtain the revenue needed for streets and other city improvements.

"What we need is a senator who would be working for the people all the time," Seith commented.

"Your overpass (19th Street) is a good example, he said, noting that "somebody should be working for the money you need. I'm not a senator, but I intend to make as many contacts as I can for you."

His legislative aims, Seith added, include legislation that would divert in percent of all income taxes collected to the states, to be allocated in turn to the cities.

"I know people scream about income taxes, but actually they are the most productive taxes we have. I call my plan 'Revenue Keeping' which means the cities would be keeping part of the money paid by their people in income taxes."

Seith appeared before the council after a busy two days in the Quad-City area in which he knocked on doors in several residential areas, spoke with plant workers at shift changes and met with local Democratic officials at a reception at Charlie's Restaurant at noon Tuesday.

He arrived in this area Monday following a debate with his opponent U.S. Sen. Charles H. Percy at Carbondale during the weekend.

Seith also spoke before the Madison City Council Tuesday night, remarking that "I know this isn't the place for it, but we need all the exposure we can get."

The candidate left this area Wednesday, going to Alton and East Alton for campaign activities there.

Aldermen review housing renovation, overpass hopes

An application for a determination of eligibility to request a $3.5 million federal grant for a housing rehabilitation program and to help finance the 19th Street overpass construction has been filed by Granite City with the Department of Housing and Urban Development, City Council members were informed in a regular meeting Tuesday night.

Mayor Paul Schuler, who said that if the grant is approved it would ease the problem of raising a substantial balance needed for the overpass project, told the aldermen the application and the $3.5 million proposed "package" was prepared by Arvil Taylor who began work Friday as administrative assistant to the mayor.

The mayor introduced Taylor who explained the funds would be sought, subject to HUD permission, under the Urban Development Action Grant program which provides $400 million annually nationwide for aiding distressed cities and counties, revitalizing economic bases and reclaiming deteriorated neighborhoods.

Taylor said: "Granite City has submitted a Request for Determination of Eligibility to apply for an Urban Development Action Grant to the Chicago area office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The request was submitted to determine whether Granite City may submit a full application for UDAG funds to assist in the implementation of the Granite City Neighborhood Revitalization project.

"The Request for Determination of Eligibility contains a preliminary description and budget for a comprehensive revitalization program for the older residential neighborhoods adjacent to downtown Granite City's Central Business District.

"Four major activities have been outlined as crucial elements of the proposal: 1) Construction of the 19th Street overpass to reduce the adverse effects of circulation problems, 2) low cost housing rehabilitation loans, 3) housing rehabilitation grants for very low income and elderly persons, and 4) private development in the project area.

"A total of $3.5 million will go to the construction of the overpass with the remaining $500,000 concentrating on housing rehabilitation and development activities.

"Urban Development Action Grants are competitive grants which are available to assist distressed cities and distressed urban counties in revitalizing their economic bases and reclaiming deteriorated neighborhoods. A total of $400 million annually was authorized by the Housing Urban Development Act of 1977 of which $100 million must go to cities with less than 50,000 population (small cities).

"Furthermore, the funds must be allocated in such a manner to achieve a reasonable balance between neighborhood restoration projects, industrial development, and renewal of commercial employment centers.

"In order to be considered for a UDAG grant, a community must submit a Request for Determination of Eligibility to HUD area offices for review. Once approved the community may then prepare and submit a full application for the funds.

"The full application for the Granite City project will be submitted to HUD in November 1978. HUD will then review the project and make a funding decision by the end of January 1979.

"If the application is not funded it may be held for an additional quarter with the final decision coming in April 1979. It will then be returned to the community with a statement explaining why the project was not funded.

"If the Granite City Neighborhood Revitalization Project is approved and funded the city will have the opportunity to construct the much needed 19th street overpass and to initiate a program of preserving valuable housing resources and expanding housing opportunities for the people of Granite City."

Tax break

consists — in the same order — of $2.55, 37.5 cents, 27.08 cents, 26.84 cents, 12 cents, five cents and five cents.

Last year's actual rate of $3.80 was composed of the same figures as now for education ($2.55), maintenance and operations (37.5 cents), transportation (12), life safety (five) and working cash (five cents), combined with 30.4 cents for municipal retirement and 35.1 cents for bonds and interest.

As a consequence, the potential overall rate decrease of 11.58 cents is composed of a 3.32-cent drop in the retirement rate and an 8.26-cent decrease in the rate for construction bonds and interest.

However, the school district's ability to levy only $644,173 and to achieve a rate of only 26.84 cents for bonds and interest is subject to funding of a state-approved grant in the amount of $273,202. Not required to formally file the levy until December, Granite City school administrators are waiting and see the prospect of General Assembly action on bond-interest funding in October.

Tully A. Huebner, director of business affairs, told board members on Tuesday, "The revisions to this budget are necessary since the new agreement with the American Federation of Teachers has been negotiated. In addition to these additional expenditures, we received an update Aug. 16 from Madison County Regional Supt. Harold "Gene" Briggs' official which gives us the probable reimbursement proposal for categorical aids."

"In the tentative budget, these amounts were placed in the budget at the same proration as last year.

"State aid has been increased in the education fund from $9,529,000 to $9,610,255. This increase is based on the most recent printout which was received since the tentative budget was presented.

"The increase is due to the transportation claim being prorated at 90 percent for regular transportation and 95 percent for special education transportation in lieu of last year's proration.

In the tentative budget, the proration was based on last year's, and we estimated that $257,000 of state aid money would have to be used in the transportation fund.

"With the new proration, only $172,000 will have to be used, which provides an additional $85,000 to the education fund. On a cash basis, revenues have been increased over the tentative budget by $192,000. The revenue changes are in the following areas:

"State aid — up $81,255.

"Driver education — a decrease of $26,050. We have been notified that we will receive only half of last year's claim during this fiscal year. The other half will be payable next summer.

"Lunch program — an increase of $70,500, due to the new proration furnished for categorical reimbursements.

"Tuition — a rise of $14,000, based on actual billings submitted to other districts.

"Book rental — up $15,500 due to the new book rental rates adopted by the board.

"Total revenue projected for this year on an accrual is $445,713 more than last year's," Huebner said.

"The expenditure section of the budget has been revised to provide for the recent increases which were approved in the negotiations with the AFT. In the salary section are the base salaries, extra pay and cost of living.

"Money the board will contribute toward the pension fund is reflected in the fixed charge section of the budget.

"The current budget provides for 685 teachers and nurses, and we have budgeted for seven additional positions in case they are needed. The 685 are 20 fewer teachers from last year, and the 692 would provide for a reduction of 13.

"Salaries for certificated personnel who are not members of the bargaining unit have not been set; however, funds have been provided in the budget for salary increases.

"On a cash basis, the budget has been increased $433,305 from the tentative budget in the education fund. On accrual, this increase is $403,617.

"During this past legislative session, the deadline for filing tax levies was extended from the last Tuesday in September to the last Tuesday in December. Our levy provides for receipt of the approved Capital Development Grant monies. We won't know if there will be an appropriation for this program until the legislature meets this fall.

"The budget, as proposed, cannot be supported by current funds, and tax and participation warrants will have to be issued during the year.

"It would be my estimate that at the end of the year in the education fund, we will have $1,100,000 to $1,300,000 in outstanding warrants, and in the building fund, $250,000 to $350,000.

"This compares with outstanding warrants for the 1977-78 year of $850,000 in the education fund, and none in the building fund. The warrants, of course, can vary depending upon actual receipt of revenues.

"On the accrual basis, the deficit will show $2,040,384. However, this could possibly be increased to approximately $2,400,000, as we are including an education fund tax levy of $6,120,000 based on an assessed valuation of $24,000,000.

"If the assessed valuation does not provide the base for the levy made, the levy will be reduced, and the revenue charged in the budget would be reduced proportionately. This would, in turn, add to the expected deficit."

Dominique Pilon of France, as reported here recently, was awarded the International Bridge Press Association prize for best-played hand of the year when he refused to overruff holding a capturable singleton king of trumps. Ron Andersen, who now plays out of New York, the ACBL 1977 McKenney Trophy winner (most master points garnered in a year) was acknowledged as runner-up in the competition for this effort:

"International Velvet" (PG) — Elizabeth Taylor became a star as an aspiring young contender and winner of the Grand National Steeplechase in "National Velvet" more than 30 years ago. Now Tatum O'Neal plays her orphaned niece who joins the British Equestrian Team and competes in the Olympic Games. This movie won't do for O'Neal what "National Velvet" did for Taylor, but it is exceptional family movie fare, despite some overmentality bordering on the mawkish.

high card points. Andersen invited with three hearts, a borderline call considering he had only seven points. However, the ace of diamonds facing a known singleton, the singleton spade and a five-card suit to a high honor made the South hand worth a move toward game. Holding good controls North accepted the invitation.

West began with the ace and another trump to slow down the anticipated crossruff, the only opening to give declarer any difficulty. On a plain suit lead, South cashes the ace of clubs and crossruffs diamonds and spades for 10 tricks.

The trump lead reduced the North-South winners to nine. Andersen could establish a tenth by a successful club finesse or finding an equal division of the missing clubs — both fail here — but he rejected these and came up with a winning line.

He won the second trump with his king and led the eight of spades. West played the king, for with two spades declarer would surely pass the eight. Andersen won dummy's ace and continued with the jack, discarding a club from hand. West took the spade queen and shifted to the ten of clubs.

Andersen was ready for this. He ignored the finesse, winning the ace and continuing with the nine of spades on which he pitched his last club. Although West won two spade tricks to go with the ace of hearts Andersen had found his tenth trick in the seven of spades. He had set up a second winner in the suit by making use of the spot cards. The balance of the tricks were crossruffed in diamonds and clubs.

Service toss skills—they're easy to learn, it says here

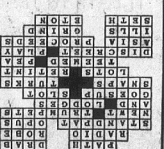

"If I could just toss the ball in the same place everytime, my serve would be GREAT!" Ever heard that before? The service toss is one of the easiest skills in this game. All you have to do is hold onto the ball longer.

Many players handle the ball like a hot potato — they throw it up so fast it's no wonder they have trouble controlling it. This problem is solved when they slow down the beginning of their motion. The longer they keep the ball in their fingers the more accurate they are in placing it.

If your toss could be more predictable, then practice the following corrective drill. Hold the ball in your fingertips, palm up. Place the throat of the racket on top of your thumb. Hold ball, arms and racket at waist level, in front of your body. Slowly drop your arms down until the back of your left hand touches the inside of your left thigh. (This will give you time to get the racket behind your back, so you won't have to toss the ball so high.)

Next, slowly lift your arms up together until your left arm touches your left cheek. Release the ball and try to catch it without moving your hand. Don't move! Look over your left shoulder and see if the racket faces it parallel to your back. It should be. Try it again. "Down together (slowly), up together (slowly), catch and evaluate." Your weight should be on your left foot; left arm extended overhead; racket over your left shoulder; parallel to your back. After a dozen practice sessions, you should be able to toss the ball blindfolded, catching it every time. Well, almost every time.

Frustrated by coin device; tank damaged

One person was nabbed at the scene and a second was arrested by Pontoon Beach police following an incident at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday at Granite City Car Wash, 2659 Nameoki Road, which is open for do-it-yourself car washes.

Roger Fountain and Phil Ross, co-owners, reported hearing a noise and seeing two men push over a large outside auto vacuum tank, which was damaged in falling.

They captured Dan R. LeBrun, 18, of 4356 Breckenridge Lane, who told officers the cleaning hose on the tank would not work properly although money had been placed in the mechanism.

An individual fled through a field. James H. Watson, 21, of 4121 Kaseberg Lane, was arrested after by Pontoon officers.

A 20-year-old Gillespie, III, woman, who was seated in a nearby vehicle was not held. Both men were charged with criminal damage to property in state misdemeanor complaints.

Flexible limits on taxing urged

(Illinois Association of Realtors)

Realtors are very conscious of the public and public sentiment on tax reform in the United States and Illinois.

Those saddled with paying the public sector's bills have witnessed government spending outpace the rate of inflation and growth in personal income.

On one hand, we are totally in support of and have worked for the day when government specifically, and citizens in general, would demand a change in our inequitable tax system.

On the other hand, we are concerned about the stability of our tax system, government and economy, and the effect of irresponsible and irrational tax reform movements.

Realtors have for many years supported tax reform at all levels of government. Our association does not support proposals which are fiscally irresponsible, cannot be adequately funded, will not represent significant tax relief for those who most need it, and are proposed as a political referendum in Illinois is only advisory and will not have the impact of law.

The people of our country and of Illinois have been saying for many years that tax cuts are needed and that we have an inequitable form of generating government revenue.

The goal of increasing efficiency and effectiveness in the public sector is a plank in virtually every political candidate's platform, whether the stakes are the presidency or a City Council seat.

Zero-based budgeting and "sunset" legislation are already being attempted to economize and to pare unnecessary or duplicate expenditures.

We support the concept of a more equitable distribution of the tax burden. We believe alternate sources of revenue must be found to relieve the disproportionately heavy tax load now being carried by the owners of real property.

We renew our support of efforts to reform property tax systems. We recognize that the entire tax system is becoming intolerable and that a more equitable distribution of taxes in general needs to be developed.

We, therefore, support further development and implementation of tax reforms and limitations which demonstrate fiscal integrity and financial stability.

Everyone must remember that tax reform will not come "overnight." It is something that will take years, and will require continued revamping because of the inconsistency of society's needs.

Illinois realtors do believe that tax reform should:

1) Set a general fiscal limit on government that cannot be easily altered, thus making all levels of government work within a budget.

The mechanics of such a limitation are quite simple. Amount of revenue collected should be linked to a measure of economic growth.

Such a proposal should allow for spending increases caused by inflation and population changes.

2) No essential government service should be cut back or jeopardized as a result of tax reform. Any limitation should allow an exemption in case of an emergency, such as a natural disaster or severe economic dislocation.

3) The State of Illinois should not delegate responsibilities to local jurisdictions without providing sufficient financial resources.

4) Present property tax should be frozen and alternative sources of revenue investigated.

5) Senior citizens, disabled persons and those fixed incomes should be given tax advantages over individuals with a flexible income.

6) Government officials must increase the efficiency of government services and eliminate government waste.

True tax reform in Illinois rests in the Illinois General Assembly and the constitution of this state.

Formal probe urged on Europe 'dumping' steel at less than cost

Steel imports from Europe propelled an overall increase of imports to 1,785,000 tons in July, according to American Iron and Steel Institute Chairman Lewis W. Foy.

Foy said, "The European Economic Community countries have taken advantage of their license to dump," and imports of steel from high-cost European producers rose dramatically between June and July. He said the European Community — where steel production costs are substantially higher than they are in either Japan or the United States — has now surpassed Japan as the main supplier of imported steel to this country.

Foy noted that July's steel imports were 425,000 tons higher than June's 1,360,000 tons total, and 205,000 tons more than the 1,582,000 tons of foreign steel which entered this country during July of last year, before establishment of the federal government's trigger price system.

He also pointed out that in the first seven months of this year, steel imports totaled 12,576,000 tons — an increase of 30 percent over the 9,632,000 tons of steel imported in the same period of 1977, a year in which steel imports eventually set an all-time record of 19,307,000 tons.

The so-called "trigger price" system was devised by the Treasury Department to monitor steel imports to determine whether to formally initiate a dumping investigation. Treasury established a series of reference prices for a broad range of steel products. These prices were based on the cost of the most efficient foreign producer — in this case, Japan — to produce and ship these products into various regions of the United States, plus allowance for a reasonable profit. During July, EEC nations shipped 740,000 tons of steel into this country — an increase of 316,000 tons from their June total.

July's Steel imports from Japan, on the other hand, were 456,000 tons, up 59,000 tons from June. Through the first seven months of this year, steel imports from the EEC had reached 4,383,000 tons. This compares with Japan's shipments of 3,930,000 tons during the same period.

Imports from the rest of the world were 580,000 tons in July, for a total of 4,236,000 tons through the first seven months of the year.

"At their present rate, steel imports will exceed 20 million tons by the end of the year, setting a new record," Foy said.

"We are seeing how successful the foreign steel producers are in taking advantage of the trigger price system and the umbrella of protection it gives to the high-cost European and third country producers — and we don't like what we see," Foy said.

"It is obvious that the government is only going to succeed in its efforts to stop foreign steel dumping by promptly commencing formal dumping investigations which, of course, it is authorized to do," he said.

"If our country is truly interested in rectifying its huge trade deficit, we should make a sincere effort to tackle imports of merchandise that are being dumped into this market."

According to Foy, the steel trade deficit for the first seven months of 1978 amounted to $3,240,000, or about 17 percent of the nation's total trade deficit.

"Time is running out," added Foy.

"There will be no incentive to other governments to join with our government — to solve trade problems or to seek further cuts in U.S. steel tariffs when their imports can capture at will such large shares of this market and avoid vigorous prosecution under our unfair trade practices laws."

Child care food workshop in this region

State School Superintendent Joseph M. Cronin has announced a series of Child Care Food Program workshops to be held throughout Illinois during September to help operators of child care centers administer their child feeding programs more efficiently.

The workshops will include sessions on administration, food service equipment assistance and nutrition education. They are designed for operators of day care centers, Head Start programs, after-school recreation programs and family day care homes that participate in the Child Care Food Program, a federally assisted program administered by the Illinois Office of Education.

Information and assistance will be available at the workshops for not-for-profit child care centers that aren't currently participating in the program but are interested in applying.

Child care centers participating in the program can expect reimbursement for free, reduced-price and fully paid meals. Financial assistance is also available to eligible centers to help them obtain new food service equipment.

Supt. Cronin said, "The segment of these workshops that should be of particular importance to persons in child care work is the session on nutrition education for young children. I encourage both operators and teachers in child care centers to attend one of these workshops."

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH CLARK whose wedding took place at Calvary Baptist Church. The bride is the former Miss Robin Stanton, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton, 2940 Washington Ave.

Miss Robin Stanton and Kenneth Clark are wed

Bouquets of white gladioli and blue mums on the altar and burning tapers in spiral candelabra provided the setting at Calvary Baptist Church for the wedding on Aug. 5, of Miss Robin Stanton, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton, 2940 Washington Ave., and Kenneth Clark, a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Frank Clark, 2335 Buxton Ave.

The Rev. Al Slayter officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening. Organist Mrs. Marge Ellsworth accompanied Marjean Ellsworth as she sang, "Sunset, Sunset," "And I Love Her," "Patiently" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a white organza gown fashioned with an A-line skirt and chapel length train. Venice lace motifs, etched with pearls, accented the Empire bodice, mandarin collar, full bishop sleeves and cuffs.

Her melody length veil was edged with silk Venice lace and held in place by a chiffon cap embellished with seed pearls and lace rosettes. She held a cascade of white silk daisies, baby's breath and pastel blue silk roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Linda Thompson and the bridesmaids included Miss Shannon Boritz, a niece of the groom, Miss Robin Rheaumeaux, Miss Mary Zott, Miss Rhonda Sanders, and Miss Lisa Morris, a cousin of the bride.

Nieces of the groom, Angela Clark and Cheyenne Glasford, served as flower girls. They were dressed in blue floral print voile A-line style gowns enhanced with a white eyelet trim on the bodices, high necklines and ruffled flounce at the hemlines.

The adult attendants carried colonial bouquets of blue daisies, yellow Sweetheart roses and baby's breath and wore headpieces created with blue silk daisies and baby's breath.

Baskets of yellow roses and blue daisies were carried by the flower girls.

Kenny Bridges attended the groom as best man. Danny Stanton, a brother of the bride, Mike, Mark and Jeff Clark, the groom's brothers, Mike Bryant, Jeff Cruse, a cousin of the bride, and Mark Hessler, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Richard Taylor was the ringbearer, and the candlelighters were Patty Morris, a cousin of the bride, Michelle Valencia and Lisa and Candy Glasford, nieces of the groom. Kelly Glasford and Marsha Meyers, a nephew of the groom, and a cousin of the bride, respectively, distributed rice packets.

Presiding over the guest book were Donna Bryant and Emma Hessler at a reception held in the Granite City Township Center.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents in the church hall.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stanton selected a green, floral chiffon Empire gown designed with a high neckline and matching jacket. She wore a corsage of peach Sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

The groom's mother was attired in a pale blue polyester dress fashioned with a scoop neckline and cummerbund at the waist complemented with a full flowing chiffon coat. Her corsage was composed of white Sweetheart roses and blue baby's breath.

Both young people are graduates of South High School. The bride is employed at Granite City Trust and Savings Bank and the groom works at American Steel Industries. They are residing in Granite City.

BETROTHED. Miss Vicki L. Meador and her fiancé Lindell E. Lindsay Jr. Their engagement is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Meador, 2227 State St. A Sept. 3, 1979 wedding is planned.

Her fiancé is working as a warehouse foreman for the Lindsay Construction Co. and graduated in 1976 from North High School.

Both young people are members of Calvary Baptist Church. They plan to be married on Sept. 3, 1979 at Calvary Baptist.

Either way, you're in for a taste treat.

Barbecue recipes with a difference

By JEANNETTE BRANIN

A Washington University research team headed by Dr. Barry Commoner has announced that meats cooked at a high temperature, such as that afforded by a charcoal broiler or frying pan, form substances which may become cancer-causing.

The news has been received variously by the Great American Barbecueing Public, which can be divided into two categories: The risk takers; the prudent persons.

The risk takers are those who will disregard these warnings, and continue to fry hamburgers at high heat and to charcoal-broil steaks and chops. The prudent persons will seek an alternative method of preparing meats: Baking, broiling, braising, boiling.

There is a choice. Today's recipes include some standard barbecuing recipes for the risk takers. Some alternative methods for the prudent person.

No matter which recipe you choose, your choice will be an informed one.

STEAKS WITH HERB BUTTER

1/4 cup soft butter or margarine
2 tbsps. chopped scallions
1 tbsps. chopped chives
2 tbsps. chopped parsley
1/4 tsp. Tabasco pepper sauce
1 tbsps. lemon juice
1/4 tsp. dried dill weed
1/4 tsp. salt
4 rib steaks, 1 1/2-inches thick
Cook butter with scallions, chives, parsley, Tabasco, lemon juice, dill and salt; set aside. Place steaks on grill 2 inches from charcoal briquets that have reached the light-gray ash stage (or a red glow at night). Or, place 2 inches below the heat source in an oven broiler. Grill steaks 5 minutes on each side, or to desired degree of doneness. Spread with herb butter and serve immediately. Serves 4.

SHISH KEBABS

1/2 cup water
1 cup soy sauce
3 tbsps. dry sherry
1 clove garlic, minced
3 tbsps. brown sugar
1 tsp. grated onion
1/4 tsp. Tabasco pepper sauce
1/4 tsp. dry mustard
2 lbs. beef sirloin, cut into 1-inch cubes
4 small zucchini, cut into 1-inch slices
2 pints cherry tomatoes
1 lb. medium mushrooms
Mix water, soy sauce, sherry, garlic, brown sugar, onion, pepper sauce and mustard in bowl. Add meat, cover and marinate at room temperature for 1 hour. Remove meat and reserve marinade. Alternate cubes of meat, zucchini, tomatoes and mushroom caps on skewers. Place kebabs on grill set 3 inches from charcoal briquets that have reached light-gray ash stage (or a red glow at night). Or, place kebabs 5 inches from source of heat in oven broiler. Brush generously with marinade. Grill 7 minutes; turn; grill an additional 7 minutes until meat has reached desired degree of doneness. Serves 4 to 6.

CHUCK STEAK

TERIYAKI

1/4 tsp. salt
2 tbsps. powdered ginger
1/4 cup soy sauce
1/4 tsp. Tabasco pepper sauce
2 cloves garlic, minced
2 tbsps. molasses
1/4 cups grapefruit juice
1/4 cup chopped scallions
4 lbs. chuck steak, 1 1/2-inches thick
Mix salt, ginger, soy sauce and garlic in medium bowl. Add pepper sauce, molasses, grapefruit juice and scallions. Place steak in glass or enamel container and add marinade. Marinate in refrigerator overnight, turn steak occasionally. Remove steak from marinade; place on grill 5 inches from charcoal briquets that have reached the light-gray ash stage (or a red glow at night). Or, place 5 inches below the heat source in an oven broiler. Brush generously with marinade. Grill steak 1 1/2 to 2 hours, basting occasionally and turning steak only once. To serve, cut steak in very thin slices. Serves 6 to 8.

HEALTHY BURGERS

1/2 cup wheat germ - 3 tbsps. milk
1 tbsps. catsup
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. Tabasco pepper sauce
2 tbsps. finely chopped celery
2 tbsps. finely chopped onion
1 lb. ground round beef
Hamburger buns
Onion rings
In medium bowl mix wheat germ, milk, catsup, salt, pepper sauce, celery and onion. Add meat and mix lightly but thoroughly. Shape into 4 hamburger patties. Place on grill 4 inches from charcoal briquets that have reached the light-gray ash stage (or a red glow at night). Or, place 4 inches below heat source in oven broiler. Grill 7 minutes on each side, or to desired degree of doneness. Serve on buns with onion rings.

Note: To add even more nutrition, buy hamburger buns made of whole wheat. Or try the new sprouted-wheat hamburger buns which contain no preservatives, and which are delicious. Serves 4.

MAY EXEMPT SMALL FIRMS FROM "OSHA"

Sen. Dewey F. Bartlett's (R-Okla.) amendment exempting small business from OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health) regulation is attracting support in this area. The amendment to the Small Business Act and the Small Investment Act passed the Senate in a voice vote and will go before a House-Senate conference committee today. The amendment would exempt businesses with 10 or fewer full-time employees from OSHA regulation, providing they are in industries with an injury-illness incidence rate of less than seven percent.

High school monitors hired

With the opening of school, both North and South High Schools were without full-time campus monitors and the Granite City Board of Education Tuesday night hired Phillip Martin as monitor for North High School and Anthony Crow and Gary Trimble at South High School.

The board agreed to a salary of $8,500 a year plus fringe benefits for the monitors, and set a $3.98 per hour wage for teacher aides, which also includes cost of living. Board members also hired Stacey Dene Granger of Edwardsville, as a multiple handicapped teacher at Lake School for one year only, and Barbara Hediger as a temporary secretary to be employed from Sept. 7 until Jan. 2 at the board office.

The resignation of Ricky Singleton as campus monitor at South High School was accepted and request for leave of absence was granted to Catherine Drake, Niedringhaus School teacher; Marilyn St. Pierre, resource teacher at Wilson School, and Robert Brokaw Sr. and Albert E. Bell, both custodians at South High School.

Extra curricular assignments for the 1978-79 year for Deborah Milton, elementary chorus; John Toncoff, assistant football at North High School, and David Carmody, assistant football at South High School, were approved by the board members.

A discussion was held relative to the water pressure of hydrants at North High School, after the annual testing of fire hydrants located on school properties.

"Our testing also revealed a serious problem concerning available water supply. When two or more hydrants are opened, a considerable loss of water volume and pressure are noted. It would be extremely difficult for the fire department to fight a fire under existing conditions," according to Tully A. Heubner, director of business affairs.

Heubner added he discussed the problem with Ron Landman and has written letters to the Granite City Fire Department, Henry Gabriel, architect, the Mitchell Water District, and Ed Juneau, the engineer for the Mitchell Water District, informing them of this problem, and requesting a meeting of all people concerned to seek a solution.

In Heubner's statement he said, "This somewhat concerns me, as each year the hydrants have been tested, and this is the first time that a problem of this type has been reported. There have not been any changes in the facility since its original construction, and since the original water line was installed based upon professional investigation and design."

During the meeting the board accepted the request of Karen Reynolds to withdraw from her assignment during the 1978-79 year as a participant in the nurse internship program. She will be replaced by Donna Dionea who will be assigned to Collidge Junior High School under the supervision of Norma Hand.

A plan to provide season reserved football tickets for North and South High Schools for the 1978 football season was withdrawn by Joe Fedora, administrative assistant-physical education and athletics, with the approval of the board.

Fedora noted the area residents did not respond to the project with the exception of 17, which is not sufficient number to warrant the reserve section.

In accordance with the board members recommendation, Fedora and principals James Dumont and Gilbert Walsley a refund will be given to the 17 people who requested reserved tickets and open seating will be observed.

'Diploma mills' flourish nearby

(Better Business Bureau) Diploma mills are not unknown to Missouri, that state being one of three in the United States that exercise absolutely no licensing authority over schools and colleges.

You do not actually have to have facilities for classes, and it requires no particular knowledge to start a school. You need only a telephone service and/or a letter drop.

A new name has come to the attention of the Better Business Bureau. An organization called Independent Study Programs, Inc., Creve Coeur, offers fantastic degrees in almost any field at economy prices. Doctorate degrees cost $250, masters degrees have a tuition fee of $225, bachelor degrees are $200 and an associated degree costs $175.

Degrees, according to information put out by Independent Study Programs, Inc., are issued by a "John Adams University" which is unknown to the Missouri Department of Higher Education and the research department of the St. Louis Public Library.

A check of records in the Corporations Department of the Missouri Secretary of State's office showed that Independent Study Programs and John Adams University are not registered either as domestic or foreign corporations or under Missouri's fictitious name law.

John Adams, according to literature put out by Independent Study Programs, issues its degrees on the basis of "life work and experiences" and "has a liberal policy in evaluating resumes" submitted by applicants for degrees which are awarded "as part of our external program."

There are no classes and no examinations. "Your degree will be issued on receipt of your tuition and resume." The tuition fee covers the cost of evaluating the resume and granting the degree.

And, if you apply for more than one degree at the same time, you may use the same resume for all degrees and get a 20 percent discount! Who would be without one — or two — or three?

Study Programs, however, is careful to point out in its literature that no degrees are issued in law, medicine or dentistry.

All degrees issued by John Adams University are printed in Old English type on 8½ x 11-inch white parchment stock and bear an "official" gold seal.

"Your degree," the literature put out by Independent Study Programs points out, "is an academic degree, and the title 'honorary' will not appear on it."

"John Adams University prides itself in offering 'university degrees' at the lowest possible cost," Study Programs literature concludes. "In this way, the doors of the university are always open to every worthy individual who has worked hard to seek professional advancement in his or her major area of specialization."

"Remember, through John Adams University you may receive your degree now based upon what you already know and have done."

When a representative of the BBB went to Suite 178 at 744 Office Parkway, he failed to find Independent Study Programs, Inc., listed on the directory board.

4 charged under city parking ban

Police continued efforts to break up congregations on the Kroger parking lot in the Nameki shopping area during the weekend and arrested four persons in two instances for parking in the area, allegedly near signs which prohibited parking.

Police said that at 10:22 p.m. Saturday they found a car parked in the lot and arrested Keith Slattery, 20, and Connie A. Slattery, 19, both of Cape Girardeau, Mo. Both were charged with criminal trespass.

At 11:44 p.m. Saturday, police also arrested Timothy Ponce, 18, of Collinsville, and Dennis A. Sharp, 22, of 2404 Grand Ave., while parked on the Kroger lot. They also were charged with criminal trespass.

Parks College housing filled

Parks College of St. Louis University has enrolled a record 840 students for the first trimester of the 1978-79 academic year. The increased enrollment is due, in part, to industry's unprecedented demand for engineering curriculum graduates.

Included in the record number are 350 new students, who have pushed the college's on-campus housing facilities to capacity. The 1978-79 academic year at Parks College began Tuesday.

Football season begins this Friday, with Granite South traveling to Jefferson City, Mo., Granite North going to Cahokia and Madison hosting Quincy Notre Dame. Here, the three local teams are shown preparing for their openers.

Granite North travels to Cahokia to meet pass-minded Commanches

Of the three local high schools opening their football season Friday night, it would appear that Granite North has the easiest assignment, opening at Cahokia.

But don't tell Steeler coach Tom Wyrostek that. "We haven't seen them play yet, of course, so we're going from scratch. We just assume they're a good team."

The Commanches, who were 0-6 last year and have won only four games in four years, will probably be a little better than last year. After all, they can't be much worse.

And Wyrostek expects them to come out throwing. "I imagine they'll throw a lot," the Steeler coach said. "They've got a pretty good quarterback over there."

Cahokia coach Jim McKay says his signal caller, Dave Hagenbrock, is one of the best in the area this year. Hagenbrock lettered last year and threw for 231 yards. A 6-0, 190 pound senior, McKay says Hagenbrock "is a threat to run, too."

Assigned to stop Hagenbrock's aerials will be a relatively inexperienced group of defensive backs.

"Roberto Cuevas is the only defensive back we have with any real experience," Wyrostek said. He'll be joined by Larry Burns, and Kevin Strannigan, both seniors, in the Steelers' 5-2 defense.

TOM GRECO

"We might try to blitz a little if they come out passing a lot," Wyrostek said. "Try and put some pressure on."

"But if we're having trouble getting coverage, we might drop everybody off, too. It just depends on the situation."

Wyrostek's own passing game is in doubt because regular quarterback Tim Dudley has a strained knee. He's been working out this week and expects to play, but Wyrostek said he may not be as effective.

"We haven't been hitting him this week and I don't know how he'll react when he gets hit in the game," Wyrostek said.

Dudley will be running the Steelers' multiple T-formation offense. Wyrostek said he expects to pass a little more than usual if Dudley is sound.

Defensively, the Steelers "have been working a lot on pass coverage and we've done pretty well. Of course, you don't know how you'll do in a game."

The linebackers play an important part in the Steelers' pass coverage. Starting for North there will be Tom Awalt, Tom Greco, Jim Sleska and Tom Lucas.

Greco will play both ways for North, starting at fullback, too. "He's a good athlete," Wyrostek said. "He's quick and he's a hitter."

Awalt's "a real good football player," Wyrostek said. On offense, Dudley will be throwing to a pair of junior wide receivers, Tim Bowman and Bob Ford, with senior Mike Hubbard alternating at receiver.

Speedy Kevin Buchanan, a sophomore, has broken into the starting line-up at halfback. Cuevas rounds out the backfield at the flanker spot.

Wyrostek said he is concerned with his kicking game. "Our punter lead the area last year, but I don't think we'll be that good this year," he said.

Robbie Chapman or Tim Bowman will handle the punting chores, while Mike Long will probably do the place kicking.

HEAVY TRAFFIC: Joe Werner covers the ball and draws a crowd as South's Dan Long (11) and Fred Schuler (second from left) converge. The Warriors travel to the Cahokia area for two tough games this weekend.

Steeler kickers drop game to Cowboys

Granite North had the edge over New Trier West in every statistical category but the one that counts: the final score.

The Steelers dominated play, but lost when the Cowboys' Bryan Erickson scored with 15 minutes left in Tuesday's game in Jacksonville.

"We had some very good chances to score, but we just didn't get the job done," said Steeler coach Bob Kehoe.

"At one point in the fourth quarter they had every one of their men but one inside the penalty area and we couldn't score because it was too crowded in there," Kehoe added.

Kehoe said the Steelers consistently peppered the Cowboy net, but "our shots would go just wide, or hit the cross bar or the goalie would make a tough save."

"The goal keeper was well positioned, but one time there was an instance when there was a better chance of the ball going in than not," Kehoe said.

During that instance, the ball was lying in front of the goal and three different Steelers whacked at it, only to have the ball bounce off another player.

Finally, with the Cowboy goalie on his knees and at the mercy of the North attackers, "the ball rolled right into his hands," Kehoe said.

North outshot New Trier 20-6, had nine corner kicks to the Cowboy's three, and had fewer saves and fouls.

"New Trier is a very good team and it was a well-played game," Kehoe said. "But we played very well and we just couldn't get a goal."

Kehoe said Erickson's goal "was a good one. He made a fine move and the goalie (Tony Pierce) didn't have a chance."

The Cowboys had the flow going their way in the opening quarter. "They took it to us in the first period," Kehoe said. "I was very concerned, but we turned it around on them in the next couple of periods."

Kehoe said New Trier came out in a very tight man-to-man marking. "They checked us very aggressively. Their men followed us all over the field early in the game," he said.

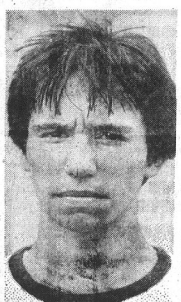

As the game went on, however, the Cowboys began to tire. "They weren't playing with us as well. I believe we were in a better condition," Kehoe said.

That's when North's trio of speedy midfielders took over. Bob Batey, John Kefalas and Glen Edwards "controlled play throughout the rest of the game," Kehoe said. "They all played well."

In fact, Kehoe was satisfied with the entire team effort. "I was happy with the way the whole team played," he said. "We had a few wrinkles to iron out in the backfield, but that's more mental than physical," the Steeler coach said.

North entertains Belleville Althoff Saturday at noon in what should not be a very tough game.

"They're just a second-year team and I don't think they'll really test us," Kehoe said.

Granite North JV runs record to 2-0

Granite North's junior varsity ran its record to 2-0 Wednesday by beating New Trier West, 2-1.

"We pretty much dominated the game," said Steeler coach David Ames. "We should have scored a couple of more goals and we held them to five shots on goal."

Todd Glasgow and Craig Burkey scored for the Steelers, with Burkey's fourth period goal being the difference. The Cowboys scored on a penalty kick in the second period to tie the score.

"Our centerback, Dennis Krystopa, was tremendous," Ames said. "He was all over their center forward. Every time he turned around he saw gray."

Ames said the entire Steeler defense was superb, including goalie Jeff Sharp.

"We were very aggressive in going after the ball," Ames said. "I was very pleased with the game."

North stopped Quincy, 4-1 Saturday. Forward Jeff Puryear scored the Steelers' first three goals, and Mike Kubanski added the finisher.

Again, Quincy's only goal came on a second-period penalty shot. "We pretty well dominated that one, too," Ames said. "Our keeper only had to make six or seven saves."

Ames praised Puryear's play, saying "he did a fine job of getting open and getting in position for the ball."

By BRAD BUGGER

Assumption High School's junior varsity soccer team couldn't get up enough play for Wednesday's scheduled game at Granite South, but the Warriors J.V. played anyway.

But whether they played enough depends on who you talk to.

"I didn't know if you were going to get the 12th goal, or not," Assumption coach Pat Scannell told South coach Gene Baker with a little more than a trace of bitterness.

Scannell had just seen his Warriors get ambushed by Baker's Warriors, 13-1, and Scannell felt Baker's boys weren't taking any prisoners.

"I knew he'd run up the score," Scannell said. "I don't mind playing them, but if I were him, I'd use some of those younger kids. He might wanna develop a program."

Baker begged to differ. "I used some boys that aren't on the team regularly," Baker said. "That's why we had all that changing of jerseys. We were down to our third string."

At any rate, the Scannell-Baker debate injected a little life into an otherwise dull, dull game.

Assumption managed to stay in the contest the first ten minutes or so, and even scored a goal. David Fernandez had been his usual brilliant of fensive display when he scored the first of five goals about seven minutes into the game.

He took a pass from Jack Burnett off a penalty kick.

But the Steelers scored less than eight minutes later when Tony Morales scored off the rebound from a Carlton Duckworth's penalty kick.

Warrior forward Fred Schuler, who split his time making rushes and jousting with Pioneer fullbacks, put South on top to stay.

With 1:14 left in the first period, Schuler took a pass from Fernandez, momentarily lost control, then beat the goalie to the ball. He lifted it into the upper left-hand corner of the net as Pioneer goalie Joe Werner watched from the ground.

Fernandez scored again in the second period off a penalty kick with about seven minutes elapsed. He quickly added a third less than two minutes later on a beautiful line drive from about 20 yards out.

And then Fernandez scored again almost exactly one minute later when Werner came out to challenge the sophomore superstar, and Fernandez simply lobbed the ball over his head, into the net.

We got good performances from several players, and what Fernandez did was self-evident," Baker said afterward.

Indeed.

They could have stopped the game right there, but, unfortunately for Werner and the beleaguered Pioneers, they didn't.

Schuler scored again with 1:28 left in the second period, then hammered in his own rebound less than two minutes into the next frame.

David Mendoza got into the act with 17:31 left in the quarter when he headed in the rebound from Fernandez's corner kick.

Fernandez continued the show with a penalty kick that wound up in the upper right-

How do you scrimmage with only 17 kids? "With a lot of luck," Scannell said. "You just have to go eight on eight, and things like that."

"For this area, they're usually a competitive team," Baker said when asked why South had scheduled the Pioneers right before two tough weekend assignments.

"Last year we beat them 4-0, with all of our goals coming in the fourth quarter," Baker added. "And the time before that, they had a two-goal lead on us in a sub-sectional game."

South is assured it will get a tougher test this weekend when the Warriors travel to Northern Illinois to face Deerfield and New Trier East.

"Deerfield beat New Trier East once last year, and they've got nearly everybody back," Baker said. "They're probably the top team coming back up there."

"They have two different teams on three different levels. They get 150 kids out every year. With that situation you ought to come up with something every now and then."

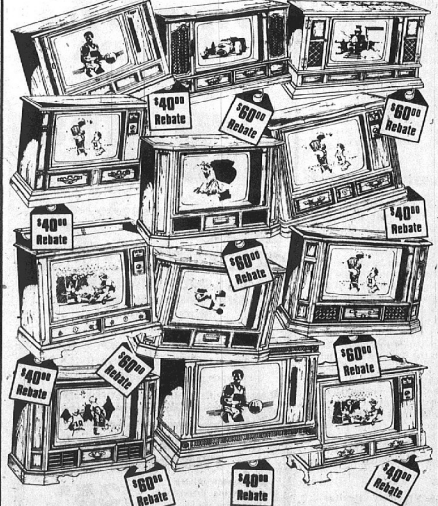

Baker said both squads play the more physical type of soccer that Chicago-area schools are known for. "They have some finesse, too," he said.

"And we can't get physical even if we wanted to," Baker added.

Disease target of state program

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

Most of us would probably have a difficult time trying to associate venereal disease with financial aid in the state of Illinois. But, believe it or not, there is a connection. Experts estimate that 2.2 school days are missed for each female case of gonorrhea.

In calendar year 1977, a total of 21,213 cases of gonorrhea in females occurred in downstate Illinois. This equals 46,668 missed school days, which cost school districts $233,340 in lost state aid.

Loss of state aid to school districts is not the only way in which venereal disease wastes dollars. For example, since gonorrhea usually causes no symptoms in females in its early stages, many women do not receive early treatment. As a consequence, 17 percent of the female gonorrhea cases develop pelvic inflammatory disease (PID). This means that in 1977, 3,606 cases of PID occurred in downstate Illinois, 2,740 of whom required hospitalization.

Average daily cost of hospitalization for each of these patients was $208.50, not including medical attention or surgery. The average time a PID patient spends in the hospital is 6.86 days, which means the cost per patient last year was $1,430. Multiply that by the 2,740 hospitalized, and it comes to a total cost of nearly $4 million. The Illinois Department of Public Health, through its venereal disease control program, is attempting to reduce the cost of social disease, both in terms of human suffering and dollars.

Early treatment of gonorrhea in females is the most effective way to reduce these costs. The emphasis is on females, due to the fact that most women have no early symptoms of the disease and, therefore, many do not seek treatment. In men, gonorrhea usually produces symptoms within a few days after infection, causing most males to receive treatment.

During 1977, through the state health department's control efforts, 8,485 female gonorrhea victims were identified and given early treatment.

The cost of this early treatment was 82 cents per patient, or a total of $6,982.

If these women had not received early treatment, and the predictable 17 percent of them had developed PID, it would have cost $2,062,704. This means the early treatment resulted in a net saving of

$2,055,742. In addition, thousands of females, known to have contact with male gonorrhea victims, were given preventive treatment and so did not become infected. In the case of syphilis, it was very much the same procedure. Experience shows that, when syphilis is not treated, one in 25 patients becomes crippled or incapacitated, one in 200 becomes blind; one in 13 develops syphilitic heart disease; and one in 44 develops neurosyphilis. During 1977, through the efforts of the venereal disease control program, 1,123 syphilis patients received treatment, and 273 persons exposed to the infection were given preventive treatment. Had these 1,300 cases gone untreated, 163 of these patients would have required sophisticated and extended care, at an estimated cost of $2,196,718 — not including lost wages and tax revenues. The total 1977 budget for the control program, including state and federal funding, was slightly over $600,000. The program resulted in a net saving of well over $6 million. Those who want more information about venereal disease may write to: Illinois Department of Public Health, Venereal Disease Control Program, 535 W. Jefferson, Springfield, Ill. 62761.

Allege cannabis possession in car

Police reported they observed a car pull to the rear of Granite City High School South Tuesday and saw a girl enter the vehicle, which was stopped a few moments later at 27th and Benton streets.

Gary W. Summers, 18, of 3009 National Ave., who said he was not a student, was asked for his driver's license. When the girl, 16, alighted from the auto, a partially smoked cannabis cigarette allegedly was found on the floorboard near where she had been seated.

Summers alleged the cigarette was his and that he had asked the girl to throw it out of the window when he saw the red lights of the squad car. The girl was released to return to high school.

Summers was charged with possession of cannabis. He was released a short time later on payment of $35 cash bond.

Driver charged

Police received a call Tuesday that a man seated in a car was talking to students, near Niedringhaus School, 29th and State streets.

An officer said he stopped the vehicle going into Granite City South High parking area at 30th and Grand Avenue and arrested Norman J. Mangoff, 16, of 3004 E. 23rd St.

It was alleged a half-pint of bourbon was protruding from beneath the driver's seat and a leather pouch was found above the sunvisor.

Mangoff was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol and not having a city sticker on the vehicle.

Additional charges are pending analysis of other items allegedly confiscated from the car.

Trend—if continued—may penalize steel consumers $5 billion yearly

Dumping of foreign steel in the United States resulting from excess world steel capacity could penalize American steel consumers at the rate of at least $5 billion a year in inflated imported steel costs by the early 1980s, according to a new study made public by the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Meanwhile, continued steel dumping would further erode the domestic steel industry and its markets — foreclosing expansion prospects by this country's steelmakers until another worldwide surge in steel demand occurs in a few years, the study states.

At that time — at or before 1985 — according to the study, U.S. production capacity would fall far short of domestic steel needs.

The gap, it adds, would have to be met by imports commanding inflationary premiums of up to $10 billion over and above domestic steel prices over a two-year period.

The report, "The Economic Implications of Foreign Steel Pricing in the U.S. Market," was prepared for AISI by the Neugien, Mass., consulting firm of Putnam, Hayes and Bartlett, Inc.

In releasing the report, Lewis W. Foy, chairman of AISI and of Bethlehem Steel, said the study has "serious implications that affect not only steel but many other American industries facing foreign competition."

Foy noted, "We are finally beginning to appreciate that dumping is not an occasional haphazard practice in international trade, but a regular, sustained intention to harm."

He added, "Dumping has become so prevalent in international trade that the economic stakes are now enormous and cause pressure to be exerted at the highest political levels against its elimination."

The authors say their study conclusively establishes a pattern of dumping by Japanese and Western European steel producers — through sales below full cost of production, and through price discrimination between the home market and the U.S. market, or both — in 1977 and intensifying in 1978.

The effect, says the study, was to drain severely domestic steel company revenues.

And it contributed to widespread unemployment and facility cutbacks and shutdowns, as the domestic steel industry was beset by a high level of imports contributing to its worst financial years since the Great Depression.

The study asserts that the Trigger Price Mechanism (TPM), designed by the U.S. Treasury Department to accelerate antidumping procedures in steel cases "contains a number of potential weaknesses which may undermine its effectiveness."

Moreover, the study questions whether the threat of dumping penalties, "even when there is a high probability that they will be assessed," is sufficient to "overcome the powerful economic incentives which lead to dumping in the first place."

The PHB report examines in detail short- and long-term effects of dumping on both the U.S. economy and the domestic steel industry, and concludes that it is unacceptable — and is seriously damaging in the short- and long term.

The report makes these points in developing its thesis:

— Excess free world steel capacity is a major stimulus for countries to dump surplus steel in the U.S. Free world capacity was estimated at 700 million tons in 1977.

World producers in 1977 operated at a capacity utilization rate of 68.7 percent, down from 72.3 percent in 1976.

New capacity, partly planned as a result of the 1973-1974 steel boom, continues to come "on stream" and overall capacity should reach 763 million tons in 1980, while production would reach only 597 million tons by 1980.

Under these conditions, average operating rates would improve to 78 percent by 1980.

Surplus capacity, which stood at 192 million tons in 1976, and 222 million tons in 1977, will by 1980 still be 166 million tons.

Foreign steel dumping in the United States keeps this country's steel capacity static, at best.

By 1985, the world may enter another steel boom cycle. The free world's capacity will not be large enough to meet potential demand.

The U.S. — caught with inadequate steelmaking capacity — will obtain needed steel only by paying huge price premiums to foreign producers, it is asserted.

According to the report, in such a situation, the United States may have to import as much as 30 million tons of foreign steel per year to satisfy its demand.

To get it, American consumers would have to pay premiums of $10 a ton (in 1976 dollars) over a two-year period.

"In current dollars, assuming a five percent inflation rate, the premium would be roughly $10 billion," the report says.

In 1977, imports accounted for 17.9 percent of this country's apparent steel supply. In the first six months of this year, 18.4 percent of supply was taken by foreign steel.

Putnam, Hayes & Bartlett estimates that in 1976 and 1977, the domestic steel industry and its workers lost a total of more than $4 billion in potential profits, wages and benefits because of dumping.

Using source material from exporting countries, the report finds that European steel shipments to the United States averaged $40 per net ton below cost in 1976, and $63 per net ton in the first nine months of 1977.

According to the study, in the 1976 fiscal year, the average price of Japanese steel sold to the U.S. was $16 per ton below Japan's average prices for all steel exports, and $25 per ton below Japan's average domestic prices.

Putnam, Hayes & Bartlett estimates that in the Japanese fiscal year 1976, that country's steel exports to the U.S. sold at an average of $22 per ton below full costs.

The following year, these prices fell to $36 per ton below full costs.

The report says that "the increases in imports in both 1976 and again in 1977 appear to be more than could be explained exclusively by increased demand in the U.S. market."

"In 1977, total imports grew more than 35 percent, yet apparent consumption grew only seven percent."

The report says that while much of the U.S. trade deficit may be explained by the relatively faster economic growth in this country than was experienced by other free world nations, "this explanation does not seem valid for steel."

According to the study, "It is reasonable to question the hypothesis that cost advantages alone explain the success of imports in the U.S. market. Furthermore, demand factors alone do not explain the massive increases by Japanese producers in 1976 and by the EEC producers in 1977."

The Putnam, Hayes & Bartlett report also points out what it considers to be flaws in the government's trigger price system.

These reference prices, which the Treasury Department uses to determine whether or not it should institute a steel anti-dumping case, are based on Treasury's assessment of Japanese production costs.

According to the study, the trigger price mechanism is based on the assumption that, as of the beginning of this year, Japanese steel production costs averaged about $300 per ton, assuming an 85 percent operating rate.

It also calls for reconsideration of an assumed 85 percent operating rate there.

"It is unlikely that the Japanese industry's average cumulative operating rate will exceed 76 percent during the current cycle — even if one extends the cycle through 1984."

"If this is true, the use of an 85 percent operating rate assumption will have the effect of understating Japanese costs by approximately $21 per ton."

Subsequently, PHB noted that the operating rate was lowered to 83.2 percent which, it says, has the effect of reducing the understatement of Japanese costs to $16 per ton.

Finally, the report points out that the system permits all foreign producers to sell steel in this country at the Japanese prices, calculated by the U.S. government on the basis of estimated Japanese production costs.

In effect, says the report, this gives higher-cost foreign steelmakers — particularly those in Europe — "a license to dump."

It estimates European production costs are at least $50 per ton higher than Japanese costs. It notes that at a time when operating rates were low and money was being lost in the EEC, production quotas and guidance prices were established within the common market.

The report says that European producers have sold steel to the U.S. at average prices significantly below both average costs and home market prices.

Minimum prices for imports into the EEC became effective at the beginning of 1978, and U.S. customs data shows that average realized revenues on European shipments to the U.S. are significantly below both the internal guidance prices and the minimum import prices for major product categories within the EEC.

LEAD SCREENING VAN provided by the Illinois Association for Retarded Citizens will visit the Quad-City area Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Sept. 13-15, to make blood tests for children nine months to six years of age to determine the level of lead in the blood. A citizens committee will conduct the program in Granite City, Madison and Venice from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily during the three-day period.

Lead screening program

Volunteers still are needed to assist in testing program for children to determine if they have high levels of lead in their blood which is to be conducted in the Quad-City area beginning Wednesday, Sept. 13, and continuing through Friday.

A van which has been offered to a citizens group here by the Illinois Association for Retarded Citizens will conduct the testing during the three-day period in specified sections of the area, according to Bill Smithson, president of the PTA at Wilcox School and a coordinator of the program here.

The screening will be conducted the first day in Venice, on Sept. 14 in Madison and Granite City, and on Sept. 15 in Granite City. The van will go from block to block in each area, making the tests from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on each of the three days.

In addition the van will be used to conduct tests from stationary sites on two of those days from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Location of these sites are to be announced later.

In Granite City, the screening will be performed in three separate areas to be covered by the van's operations. These include the area from Niedringhaus Avenue to 25th Street between Poplar Street and Wilcox Avenue; Adams Street to Madison Avenue between Niedringhaus and 25th, and from Madison Avenue to Namecki Road from 23rd Street to 27th Street.

Volunteers needed include eight to 10 persons to go door-to-door, several persons to deal with registration and permission forms, at least two registered nurses and others.

Volunteers are being urged to call Smithson at 797-0130 after 5 in the evening, or to contact one of the members of the planning committee.

Testing will be done only on children who volunteer and have parental permission. It involves a simple pricking of a finger by a machine which requires only 10 seconds to detect high levels of a chemical in the blood which indicates the possibility of lead in the system.

Officials of the Illinois Department of Public Health will be on hand to aid the parents of children who may have lead in their systems.

A positive finding by the machine may be caused by high blood pressure, so an additional blood test will be taken of any children showing a suspicious test result and will be sent to Springfield for full analysis.

Early diagnosis of lead in the system can avoid serious brain disorders, kidney damage, blindness or numerous other health problems, Devin Breslin, representative of the Illinois Association for Retarded Citizens, told interested parents during a program to prepare for the van's visit here.

The program will concentrate on testing children from nine months to six years old, considered the prime ages for ingesting lead in paint, dirt or from other sources.

"I John 1:9... If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins..."

This is one of the most powerful statements made in the Bible. If we confess, He will forgive Rest assured, God is no respecter of persons and whoever cometh unto Him, He will in no wise cast out.

You do not need to belong to any religious organization in order to confess. You do not even have to know how to pray! You need only to be honest before God. If you are truly sorry for your sins, He will truly forgive you for them.

Will you not believe God's own word? Will you not ask forgiveness? Today.
